Three auction houses - 5 auctions

The Eppli experts have selected special pieces for this auction over many months.

Expert days at our cooperation partners "Wempe Jewelers" and the luxury department store "Breuninger"

Our experts were on the road in numerous cities, from Berlin to Hanover to Freiburg, and were able to acquire these outstanding objects for our October auctions.

Auction preview

This catalog presents a selection of our high-light pieces. All auction lots can be found with photos on our homepage www.eppli.com. Additionally, you can view items on-site in our stores.

The auctions

On-site participation is possible at all auctions in the various auction houses. Likewise, our auctions are broadcast in real-time via our live bid system on our homepage www.eppli.com. You can participate from anywhere in the world!

Don't buy - invest!

Physical assets are currently making a strong comeback. Bankers and investment advisors recognize the value of investing in high-end luxury items. Watches, jewelry, coins and art are no longer hobby purchases, but are a widely acknowledged legitimate investment.

All prices include buyer's premium!

We appreciate not only values, but also transparency and clear rules. That is why both the call price and the hammer price with us are always the price you pay - no hidden fees!

We hope you enjoy reading and wish you success in your bidding.

Rare handwritten 2-page letter with envelope of the current King Charles III. from 1987 as the Prince of Wales. WINDSOR CASTLE stationery, the prince's coat of arms embossed in blue, format approx. 19x12 cm. The letter is addressed to Vernon Russell-Smith, a landscape gardener from London, probably born in 1924 and living at Prices Gate in London at the time. In the letter, Charles expressed his idea of planting an orchard with apple trees in the field behind the kitchen garden. But he also wonders if it wouldn't be too many trees for the budget. Finally, he suggests taking a look at the area with the addressee. The letter is folded in the middle. The ink on the signature "Charles" is a little smudged.

The letter is addressed in Grace Kelly's handwriting to "S.A.R. La Princesse de Borbon-Parme Hotel Metropole Monte Carlo". The salutation in the letter is "Dear Meg". Grace Kelly thanks the Princess for the flowers that reached her and her husband Rainier after they returned from Cagliari. She would go to Paris and Marchais and miss them and look forward to seeing them again in a few weeks when they return. The letter is signed "Much love Grace".

Third Reich 1933 - 1945

Extremely rare trilogy of medals

In GOLD (999), SILVER (1000) and BRONZE offered as a set, on the 10th anniversary of the Hitler putsch 1933 of 9 November 1923 in Munich (so-called Bürgerbräu putsch) - pedestal with large swastika and symbolic flames / soldier lying on bier, above the Feldherrnhalle between dates as well as in front of rays the imperial eagle with swastika. The gold medal approx. 47.5 g rough, border punch 999, VF, fine scratches. The silver medal approx. 29 g rough, reverse punch 1000, VF-EF, zaponed. The bronze medal ca. 26.3 g rough, without punch, VF-EF, zaponed. Each approx. 40 mm. In matching old original case. Although the medals are unsigned, they most probably originate from the production of Mayer & Wilhelm Stuttgart, which has been confirmed by the minting pattern and style. It is possible that this set was commissioned as a state gift and special production and that the client deliberately chose to omit the signature for the production. Pieces with and without signatures are known.

Olympic Games Stockholm 1912

Sensational inheritance with the original GOLD MEDAL of the Olympic team winner in rowing OTTO FICKEISEN (b. 1879 in Ludwigshafen, d. 1963 in Königsbach/Weinstrasse).). In the coxed four he won the gold medal together with his brother Rudolf Fickeisen, Hermann Wilker, Albert Arnheiter and helmsman Otto Maier. This was also the first Olympic gold medal for the German Rowing Association. He was considered the best German rower before the First World War in the Ludwigshafen rowing club. It has been confirmed by the IOC (International Olympic Committee) that the team gold medals in Stockholm 1912 were made of gilded silver, as is the example offered here. Gold medals were always awarded to individual winners, while the gold-plated variants were awarded to team winners, with the exception of equestrian, tennis, and sailing teams. Since the Olympic Games in Antwerp in 1920, gold medals were manufactured with gold plating (vermeil) only. On the obverse of the medal two female figures place a laurel wreath on the head of a young victorious athlete. On the reverse a herald announces the opening of the games, on the left the statue of Ling, the founder of the institutions and the Swedish gymnastics system. All around the inscription "OLYMPISKA SPELEN STOCKHOLM 1912". The medal designers were Erik Jordan Lindberg (reverse) and Bertram Mackennal (obverse), the manufacturer C.C. Sporrang & Co. Diametre approx. 33 mm, rough weight approx. 19.3 g, VF, fine scratches. The medal was mounted for wearing purposes later by descendants of the Olympic champion, an eyelet was attached to the mounting. It might be possible that the gold medal could be removed from the mounting undamaged. In addition, the only preserved original brown, gold-printed case "Olympiska Spelen Stockholm 1912 / I. PRIS / LACTÄFLAN". Reverse printed with manufacturer "ERNSTRÖM & MEDBERG STOCKHOLM". Furthermore, a men's pocket watch by Otto Fickeisen, Savonette in rose gold 585, monogrammed "OF" and dedication in the cover "To the instructor of the L.R.V. on 5 Aug. 1906. From many members", metal dust cover, movement 3/4 plate, metal eyelet, arabic numeral, the dial has splintered off with fine hairline cracks, enamelled, tarnishes, clear signs of wear and scratches, rubbed, rough weight approx. 96.5 g. Also a piece of a single clasp with a blue and yellow ribbon and an oval case with the dedication "Den Siegern in Stockholm "Olympia 1912" z. fr. Erg." on the lid, containing a lapel pin in gold 585, approx. 4.4 g rough. In addition to a framed photo print of the certificate awarding the gold medal to the Ludwigshafen Rowing Association, the album of the 1912 Olympic Games (publisher Illustrated Sport Berlin-Schoeneberg) and other extensive photo documentation are also included, including a photo print framed behind glass with the award of the Kaiserpreis by Emperor Wilhelm II. to the winning team of the Ludwigshafen Rowing Club, numerous other photos showing Otto Fickeisen, his brother and his team. In addition there is an identification card for the German Reich by Otto Fickeisen, later photo prints and postcards. Various signs of age and usage, please inspect!

We appreciate values

A corporate philosophy in the double sense

As an auction house, we not only value the current market value of a wide variety of items, but also moral and human values such as trust and reliability are part of the foundation and deep conviction of our daily work.

Second-hand luxury goods in particular are currently experiencing an unprecedented boom: individualists and collectors, but also investors, are finding the individually suitable object on the vintage market. In addition to their uniqueness, pre-owned luxury items such as designer fashion, jewelry and watches also score points for sustainability, as they feature particularly high material quality and workmanship. In addition to the many years of use of these exclusive objects, they gain even more appeal and value over time, making them an investment and coveted collector's item.

Preserving values and creating new values is what drives us. Our owner-managed family business with over 45 years of tradition now has more than seventy highly motivated employees.

Spread over three auction houses and a total of nine locations with different focuses, the hammer is swung five times a month at the Eppli company. We appraise, value, buy, sell, and auction well over 30,000 items annually – all from private ownership. Our main focal points are jewelry, watches, designer fashion, bags and luxury accessories as well as art, antiques and coins. In addition, we advise on the liquidation of collections of all kinds, handle estates and executorships.

As a traditional auction house, we conduct our auctions in public. Senior partner Franz Eppli and Ferdinand B. Eppli are publicly appointed and sworn auctioneers by the state capital Stuttgart. Today we are one of the largest auction houses in Southern Germany.

Time for real values – time for you!
We look forward to your visit.

Hubertus Drabarczyk vel Grabarczyk, managing director of the jeweler at Eppli, is a gemologist and a proven expert in antique jewelry, jewels and gemstones. His many years of experience enable him to give his customers excellent advice in a pleasant and relaxed atmosphere when it comes to unique pieces of jewelry.

From many thousands of pieces of jewelry that pass through the hands of Eppli experts, he selects the most interesting objects and the finest gemstones.

Set diamonds receive an international expertise and can thus be offered significantly below the jeweler's price.

Remodel, remake, repair or sell after all?

Precious jewels are associated with occasions and memories. Skilfully cut gemstones, designed into very special, unique pieces of jewelry, should suit their future wearer or owner. For individual productions our master goldsmith is available from his own workshop and creates pieces of jewelry that inspire today and become collector's items tomorrow.

Here they take their time and live the tradition of the classic jeweler. Discretion is a matter of honor.
